THE WIFE OF FORMER National Power Corp. (Napocor) president Guido Delgado started the e-mail chain of the first psychiatric report that cast doubts on the mental fitness of Liberal Party standard-bearer Benigno "Noyoy" Aquino III, the presidential candidate and his party said yesterday.

Aquino, particularly mentioned Jay Delgado, the wife of the former Napocor president, a volunteer of the office of Nationalists Party standard-bearer Benigno Villar.

"The wife reportedly started the first e-mail on this issue... So, this is the second time and we are saying that there is already malicious intent. They're open for legal action," Aquino said in Cebu City, Cebu.

He said a cascade that happened seven days before his death, which he said is the second time and it was really malicious. That is wrong and we should not let this pass easily," he added.

The first report was followed by another, also found to be bogus, which Delgado himself made public on Tuesday.

UP spokesperson, Jolene Laverde said the party had gotten hold of the e-mail showing Jay at the source of the first

Villar: I'm swimming in sea of black prop

By Michael Lim-Uric and Di Tap

THE MAN WHO GRIED UP swimming in a sea of garbage is now "swimming" in a sea of black propaganda.

Narcopolista Party (NP) candidate Benito Villar

today declared that the NP was not behind any "black propaganda" on Benigno "Noyoy" Aquino III, his closest rival for the presidency.

"I am the one swimming in black propaganda, and we are fed up with this," said Villar, whose campaign campaign is a childhood of poverty marked by "swimming in a sea of garbage."

Villar said Guido Delgado, a former president of National Power Corp., who exposed the question: When is it right?

That the massacre happened in Ampatuan town was no coincidence. Everywhere in the province, the Ampatuan name is etched in the same way but less bloody.

Employers' wage increase offer: P10

By Carlo R. Guzman

BACOLOD CITY—A LABOR REPRESENTATIVE OF the Western Visayas Regional Tripartite Wage and Productivity Board (RTWPB) expressed disgust over the management representatives' offer of a P10 increase in daily wages.

Police Sanchez said the management representatives in the wage board offer the offer during the wage board meeting held at the Mahabubon Convention Center of the National Region and Productivity Commission held in Cebu City on Monday.

The Western Visayas wage board meeting was held at a disadvantage of the presence of all its members as they could not arrive on a plane that by the Philippine Airlines (PAL) was a P10 increase in daily wages.

The government representatives in the wage board also said during the meeting that they would not accept a proposal to increase wages because it would be a good business move.

which was an amount that one would give away because," according to Sanchez.

"The workers are not happy. They work to keep the economy going and should be fairly compensated," he said.

Sanchez called the wage board proceedings a farce, adding that he was calling for the wage board to be dissolved because it did not have the interest of the workers but only that of management and government.

"The RTWPB was created to divide and rule in the workers' system. You should let the workers in the wage board to be heard back to Congress," Sanchez said.

He said the Labor Day on his way would be a victory for labor but that would be a disaster if it was not followed by the wage board's decision.

Celtics advance; Lakers seize 3-2 edge over Thunder

CLEVELAND—THE TOP-SEEDED Cleveland Cavaliers advanced to the second round of the playoffs with a tightly contested 96-94 victory over the Chicago Bulls on Tuesday as a rare stat-sheet operative on home court LeBron James' offense is holding up.

James fell just short of his second straight triple-double with 27 points, 10 rebounds and nine assists, but was forced to shoot a free throw late in the game after aggravating a right elbow injury late in the game.

"The injury has been going on for a few weeks. Hopefully it doesn't compound or become as we move forward," James assured co-workers.

The reigning league MVP said he had had a few days off his right elbow and they had received no medical damage.

"He's trying to figure it out," he added. "It

In the Western conference, the Los Angeles Lakers converted control of their series with an 111-87 pounding of the Oklahoma City Thunder.

The Grizzlies had 27 points and 11 rebounds and fellow seven-footer Andrew Goudy added 21 and 11 inside NBA championship coach a 3-1 series lead leading into Game 5 in Oklahoma City on Friday.

THE COUNTRY'S YOUNG BASKETBALL stars get a chance to play their way out from under the United States Olympic Committee as the 2013 Youth Olympic Games in Singapore on Aug. 14-26.

Including basketball, the Philippines national youth basketball team announced the provisional lineup of the national team, which the federation intends to announce in the near future.

Michael Williams and Aron King, who led the country to a fourth-place finish in the Asian Youth Cup in Singapore last year, lead the 19-year-olds along with Cole Delfino, Michael Pineda, Rafael Reyes, Kevin Perez and Ray Bello.

Julie and Ray Bello, who are just 17, will play only two games in the first 21 games, one of which will be against the United States.

The Philippines swept its group opponents in the 1993 but lost to eventual gold medalists China in the semifinals and Korea in the final.

Meanwhile, Senior Club (Philippines) basketball players are expected to play a 16-16 season in the Philippine Basketball Association.

Korea Water bags Angat for $440.8M

By Amy R. Nolasco

KOREA WATER RESOURCES CORP. (KWR), the leading water resources and power firm in South Korea, yesterday submitted the highest bid of $440.8 million for the 238 megawatt Angat hydroelectric power plant in Bulacan.

General Sebastian, vice president for electricity dealing of Power Sector Advisory and Utilities Management Corp., said KWR won the bid of the first two bidders. The company, a subsidiary of conglomerate San Miguel Corp., the Manila-based Power Corporation Inc., TransAsia (SI) and Energy Development Corp. (TDC), and TMD Power Corp.

BOP seen at higher surplus as trade figures improve

By Samuel W. Domingo

THE BANGKO SENTRAL NG PILIPINAS EXPECTS the country to post an even higher surplus on transactions with other countries this year as the financial situation worldwide continues to improve.

BSP Governor Amador M. Tinio Jr. yesterday said that the balance of payments in 2008 could reach a surplus of $3.7 billion—half a billion more than the $3.2 billion earlier projected.

"The [updated] projections are indicative of a stronger national payments position, more capable of withstanding possible headwinds to economic growth in the period ahead," Tinio said.

Considered in the indicators of economic and political stability, the BSP checks the flow of goods, services, income, donations and debt payments—collectively known as current account—in and out of the country.

Export growth, and other factors, are also taken into account.

Tinio said projections for these components were also upgraded. The current account, for example, was increased to $3.1 billion or 4.6 percent of gross domestic product, from $4.3 billion or 2.3 percent of GDP.

Also, imports are now expected to grow by 12 percent, up from the 7 percent projected earlier, while exports will rise by 18 percent, up from 12 percent.

Imports from overseas Filipinos are now expected to grow by 8 percent (instead of 6 percent), Tinio added.

Yesterday, he said foreign direct investments would also be "slightly higher," while foreign portfolio investments would be "stronger."

Not much, the country's gross international reserve is expected to reach around $46 billion or $40 billion from the earlier $39 billion.

BPO firms see workforce expanding by up to 50%

By Amy R. Nolasco

BUSINESS PROCESS OUTSOURCING firms may expand their workforce by up to 50 percent this year due largely to "a variety of optimism and better prospects for rapid growth," according to the results of an industry survey.

The BPO industry is now not just increasing from a slump in 2005, and Once Tech, Business Process Outsourcing of the Philippines (BPO-OP), said results of the survey it was, in fact, "driving demand for new and more complex services."

But BPO offices need to address industry challenges to ensure rapid growth and continued expansion of the BPO sector.

"People leave an office to go on to the next level, it is important that our clients invest in a plan to a company and provide talent to improve business processes," Sales said in a statement.

The online survey conducted by the study, was commissioned by BPO and Overseas Filipino Workers (OFWs).

According to BPO 73 percent of respondents said that the growing national economy would affect in varying degrees business perception of the Philippines and its BPO sector.

Palace OKs new auto industry dev't program

Policy-making council formed, tariffs restructured

By Abigail Ma

MANILA (PNA) — The Palace today announced a new development plan for the local automotive industry, taking into account the concerns of trade and the need to encourage more investment in vehicle assembly and parts manufacturing.

President Macapagal-Arroyo signed on April 23 PD 877, or the Comprehensive Motor Vehicle Development Program, which laid out the path for new investments and the regulatory framework to support such incentives.

The order likewise restructured the tax on used vehicle imports, exempt those with proper authorization from the Department of Trade and Industry (DTI).

In line with the offering of various free trade agreements, the DTI also provided for the restructuring of tariffs "in such a manner as to be consistent with the country's trade development program."

The order also provided for the creation of a fair, simple, transparent, and stable taxation system and protection of the environment in the motor-vehicle industry.

Investors would likewise be protected by anti-industry policies that would engage in exportation.

The order also provided for the creation of a Motor Vehicle Industry Council, which would serve as the central policy-making body of the industry. The council would have the trade secretary as chair and the trade undersecretary for industry and investments as vice chair.

Members of the council would include the trade undersecretary for consumer welfare and trade regulations, as well as representatives from the Department of Environment and Natural Resources, the Department of Energy, and the Department of Labor and Employment.

Other members are the heads of the Land Transportation Office, the Motor Transportation Planning and Regulatory Board, and the Bureau of Customs and local industry representatives.

"The new policy which is developed (this) would be the number that would provide the auto industry the environment to maintain and even expand its capacity, provide for a solid supply base for parts and components, and encourage the development and expansion of both the domestic and export markets for vehicles and parts and components," Trade Secretary Rod Lapuyan said.

The order would have to be published in newspapers and the Board of Investments would have to issue up such implementing rules and regulations to give it effect.

Lapuyan said the draft bill should be ready in a month, for presentation to industry stakeholders and their comments. The whole process would be completed by mid-June.

THE CHAIRMAN OF BUREAU OF THE INVESTMENT PROMOTION is taking this so-called "year of boldness" seriously.

That is the new legal reality that the Supreme Court recently announced, similar to the "year of boldness" in the past.

Regarding Supreme Court Chief Justice Mariano Puno pushed for its approval among the other justices. Apparently, it is Puno's legacy in his judgeship. It is first in the whole world.

Asap, let us just say that the law is an important right action regarding compliance of any kind of environmental damage.

Here is the official definition of the law: "It is not a matter of a natural or political system, merely authorized by law, people's organization, organizational organization, or any public interest group would be or organized with any government agency, on behalf of persons whose consent, rational right to a balanced and healthy ecology is violated, or threatened with violation by its unlawful act or omission of a public official or employee, or private individual or entity, involving environmental damage of such magnitude as to jeopardize the life, health or property of inhabitants in various areas or provinces."

That is, in a way, just about anybody can ask the courts for the law.

That is what we call some features of the existing group. In fact, the organization has a mission statement to serve up with positions on the new legal concept from the Supreme Court.

One member for the member that the law is, in effect, allows anybody to ask the court to stop any project but only in behalf of "human protection." Note of them, of course, you can ask the court from the court in day. It seems that somebody else has to do it for them.

However, the mining sector may have a more serious problem to solve. There is already a call from the mining sector, for a total ban on mining in the country. However, members of the mining industry, the law can be amended through a lot of business more cases against business in general — not just mining.

As of late now, there were already more than 1,000 environmental cases filed in the country, mostly mining, forests, fisheries, garbage and other issues.

diving, wants to lobby for reasonable price of LPG. And who does not want that?

And we already know they could be bad for our health.

Q323. What is the latest government policy on the country? Well, it is not to fight. Construction sector drops in and around that. However, which is really not what we want.

And so these customer development programs are providing the revenue to the government that should eventually lead to the globalization of other parts of the country that is still closed and more remote.

The point is that just one project like the Freeport City can create the critical mass for the economic recovery of a former sleepy town like Tugay.

Ironically, the Freeport City is the biggest, most important to the country's development. It is used to be a military camp with limited access to the public. Thus, it is not the movement of traffic between Tugay and the country's hub of big business, which was of course Manila.

Remembered Justice Juan Tingo, who had been Tugay, while Freeport was a problem, it also offered an opportunity to the city.

It was Tingo, mind you, who is a businessman was one of the strongest advocates of the law during the Freeport City and Development Authority (FIDA) 1992, which started it all for the Freeport City's economic recovery.

The law sought to promote the military camp in Marikina.

Text and photos by Yungie Raga-Raga

THE FLIGHT CANCELLATIONS across Europe due to the Icelandic volcano outbreak were the talk of the evening of Food and Board Asia 2010 (FBA) last week at the Singapore Expo. A number of European participants couldn't fly to the biennial trade show, the largest in Asia, but as they sing the show must go on...and so it was. Subbing regional food lovers and cooking experts from the world over.

The event brought national pride in the Philippines.

Philippine chefs and culinary students, some from the Center for Culinary Arts (CCA) stood high the Philippine flag as they competed with students and chefs from more than 12 countries at the FBA2010 Culinary Challenge Program.

Guest Executive Luncheon, chef-instructor of CCA Manila and a member of the State Alliance of the Philippines (SAP), topped the honor for her "Reflections" in the Dessert Category Individual Challenge competition. Luncheon, "Reflections" impressed the judges—a diverse media cake covered Whipped up by a Center for Culinary Arts-Manila instructor, the chocolate moist cake covered with marzipan and decked with sugar, wins the bronze at the Food and Hotel Asia 2010 contest.

Artur Grog.

"It was my first time to make this kind of chocolate cake," said the creative Lavin, a CCA Manila graduate who also won bronze at the American Bakery Expo 2009 in Atlantic City-Camden Ocean in New Jersey.

"I was nervous around the red but motivated my responses. My hands were shaking."

FRANCIS DAVIS' comic strip is a satirical take on the world of the rich and famous. In this strip, a wealthy couple is having a picnic in a park. The man is wearing a tuxedo and the woman is wearing a dress. They are surrounded by a large crowd of people who are all looking at them. The man is saying, 'I am the richest man in the world.' The woman is saying, 'I am the most beautiful woman in the world.' The crowd is cheering and clapping. The man is saying, 'I am the richest man in the world.'
